Hello everyone!

I hope all of you are having a fabulous summer. The State Library has been hard at work creating new services to aid you in the wonderful work you do for the state of Missouri. We have two new webinar courses and a new program called Book-a-Librarian, which will give you an opportunity to get additional assistance with any question you may have about the library and its resources. If you have any questions or concerns please don’t hesitate to contact me. Enjoy the rest of the summer!

Your Outreach and Training Librarian,
Julie Cox
573.522.2796
julie.cox@sos.mo.gov

Spotlight: Book-a-Librarian

Do you need one-on-one assistance with research or using the State Library’s resources? You can now make an hour long appointment with one of our librarians to come to your office for one-on-one help.

Appointment topics include:
- Conducting research/database searching
- Census
- Finding federal or state publications
- Internet search tips
- Using MOBIUS/finding print materials
- Using Interlibrary Loan
- Finding/using eBooks on the computer or EBSCO app

To book an appointment, simply contact the Training Librarian, Julie Cox with your question topic and two date and time availabilities. For those outside of Jefferson City, please call or email to explore your appointment options.

Upcoming Webinars: Accessing State Publications

August 23, 2017, 11 a.m.-12 p.m.

This session will introduce the State Publications Access Program archive database. This database contains over 7,000 digital publication files produced by all state agencies covering topics from agency histories to audit reports. The class will discuss how to access agency publications to obtain needed information and examine the many features of the database platform. Register at:

https://attendee.gototraining.com/r/9102974797805378049

Upcoming Webinars: Reference Managers: Making Research Simple

September 27, 2017, 2-3 p.m.

Having trouble keeping track of all your research or sharing your sources with coworkers? Reference managers are the answer! This class will discuss two reference managers, Zotero and Mendeley, their functions, how to input and organize references and citations, and how to share research with others to save time and effort. Register at:

https://attendee.gototraining.com/r/6914268259856812545